Virginia, 14 invariably for Mr. Jefferson, viz. Mr. Nicholas, Mr. Clay, Mr. Cabell, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Eggleston, Mr. Goode, Mr. Gray, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Jackson, Mr. New, Mr. Randolph, Mr. A. Trigg, Mr. F. Trigg, Mr. Tazewell.

Five for Burr, on some ballots, (2 of whom on the first ballot voted for Mr. Jefferson) viz. Mr. Evans, Mr. H. Lee, Mr. Page, Mr. Parker, Mr. Powell.

North-Carolina, 6 invariably for Jefferson, viz. Mr. Allison, Mr. Macon, Mr. Stanford, Mr. Stone, Mr. R. Williams, Mr. Spaight.

Four for Burr on some ballots, (3 of whom on the first ballot voted for Mr. Jefferson) viz. Mr. Henderson, Mr. Hill, Mr. Hickson, Mr. Grove.

South-Carolina, Mr. Sumpter being sick has not attended, but will attend, at every hazard, the moment his vote can be obtained. The individual voices of the representatives of this state are not accurately known. But it is generally believed that Mr. Huger voted for Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Rutledge, Mr. Pinkney & Mr. Harper, vote for Burr. Mr. Notch's vote is doubtful. He has gone home.

Georgia, 1 for Jefferson, viz. Mr. Taliaferro. Mr. Jones, who is dead, would have voted the same way.

Kentucky, 2 for Jefferson, viz. Mr. Davis, and Mr. Fowler.

Tennessee, 1 for Jefferson, viz. Mr. Claiborne.

The Senate of the United States have passed the bill that originated in the house of representatives for erecting a Mausoleum to George Washington, with amendments that entirely alter the provisions of the bill.

Instead of directing the erection of a Mausoleum, they direct the erection of a Monument for which they appropriate 50,000 dollars and appoint John Marshall, Bishopt Washington, John E. Howard and Tobias Lear, commissioners to carry the erection into effect.

TUESDAY, February 17.

After a declaration of the result of the Presidential election, a bill for declaring all letters received by, or written to John Adams free of postage, was read twice and ordered a third reading.

WEDNESDAY, February 18.

An engrossed bill for extending the privilege of franking to John Adams, now President of the United States, was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Davis, after some prefatory remarks, introduced the following resolutions.

Resolved, That the speaker of this house, in directing the sergeant at arms to order and expel from the gallery of this house, Samuel H. Smith, a citizen of the United States, usurped a power not given him by the rules of this house, and deprived the said Samuel H. Smith of his constitutional right, as a citizen of the United States.

The bill granting the privilege of franking to John Adams after the 4th of March next was read a third time and passed.

Several petitions were presented and read.

Gen. Smith reported a bill for erecting Light Houses on New Point Comfort and Smith's Point in Virginia and one on an Island in Long Island Sound.

Mr. Parker reported a bill making appropriations for the Navy; and also, a bill for establishing Navy-yards.

A bill was reported from the committee appointed on the subject of Post-Offices and Post-Roads, which was committed to a committee of the whole house and made the order of the day for Friday.

A bill making appropriations for the support of government for the year 1801 was twice read and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading tomorrow; as was also a bill making appropriations for the support of the military establishment.

THURSDAY, February 19.

Mr. C. Goodrich made report from the committee appointed to enquire into the conduct of Winthrop Sargent, which was referred to a committee of the whole on Monday.

The report is lengthy, and concludes by recommending the following resolution:

Resolved, That there does not appear cause for further proceedings on the matters of complaint for mal-administration against Winthrop Sargent, as governor of the Mississippi Territory.

The motion was made to reject the resolution—a debate ensued. On the question being taken by yeas and nays, it was rejected; there being yeas 50—nays 49, and the speaker declaring himself in the negative.

A bill making appropriations for the support of government for the year 1801 and the bill for the support of the military establishment were each read a third time and passed. The latter appropriates about 2,000,000 dollars.

The engrossed bill for the relief of Nathaniel Holmes was read a third time and passed.

A bill to amend the act entitled "to provide for the valuation of houses & the enumeration of slaves" was read a third time and passed.

Mr. C. Goodrich from the committee appointed to enquire into the conduct of Winthrop Sargent, made a report, which being lengthy the reading was dispensed with. It was on motion referred to a committee of the whole house and made the order of the day for Monday.

Mr. Otis presented a petition from Mr. L'Enfant, which he moved to refer to the committee of claims, as it was accompanied with documents that were not before that committee when they reported unfavorably on his former petition—Carried.

A report was made from the committee appointed to consider the expediency of extinguishing the claims of the individual states, as established by commissioners formerly appointed to settle the accounts. Mr. Christie moved to postpone the consideration till the 3d of March, which was carried, 47 to 42.

Mr. Platt from the committee of revision and unfinished business reported a bill for continuing in force the law commonly called the Sedition law—without limitation of time.

A motion was made to reject the bill and the yeas and noes were called—Mr. Allison spoke in favor of the motion and then the question was called for from various parts—There were 50 in the affirmative and 49 in the negative, the Speaker voted in the negative consequently the motion was lost.

A message was received from the Senate informing the house that they had passed the bill granting the privilege of franking to John Adams.

On motion by Mr. Macon, the Sedition bill was after some debate referred to a committee of the whole house and made the order for Saturday.

WASHINGTON, (City) February 17. Immediately after the election of a President was announced, a number of the citizens of New Jersey avenue assembled and unanimously resolved to illuminate their windows at fun fet; and at nine o'clock an elegant entertainment was given by a Republican at his own house. When the following toast were drank:

1. The Sons of Columbia—May they ever enjoy Liberty and virtue to protect it—16 cheers.

2. The Federal Constitution—and Thomas Jefferson—10 cheers.

3. John Adams—May his country remember his services with gratitude—4 cheers.

4. The memory of Washington—May it remain without the help of a Mausoleum, until the sun itself shall be extinguished.—A Solemn Pause.

5. The memory of those heroes who have fallen to secure American Independence.—16 cheers.

6. The memory of John Wesley and those who crossed the atlantic to illuminate the Western World with the light of the gospel.

7. The memory of Benjamin Franklin—May the fons of science find another in Dr. Priestly.

8. Wm. C. C. Claiborne; who with his own hand was the first to illuminate his lodgings—may his talents and virtues long illuminate the land of Liberty.—16 cheers.

9. General Samuel Smith, the friend of American commerce and manufactures.—9 cheers.

10. Matthew Lyon, and the liberty of the Press—16 cheers.

11. John Nicholas of Virginia who with one eye can bring to light the works of darkness.—16 cheers.

12. John Randolph, the man who dares to speak as he thinks; and write to a president in his own style.—9 cheers.

13. The representatives from New-York; May Alians never want a Livingston to defend their cause.—16 cheers.

14. Albert Gallatin—May the United States long enjoy his financial talents.—16 cheers.

15. The City of Washington—May it flourish till the globe itself dissolves.

16. The American Fair—May they instruct their offspring to remember the 17th day of February, 1801.

Extract of a letter from a respectable mercantile house, to their correspondent at Philadelphia, dated "Liverpool, Dec. 8th 1800.

"It is with reluctance we now communicate to you, the situation of a great number of the poor inhabitants of this place—It is a fact, numbers are almost in a state of starvation.

"Our markets are generally extravagantly high. Flour is still rising—Rice is worth from 40 to 44s.—Sea Island Cotton from 3s 3 to 3s 6, none at market—Upland 2s to 2s.

"Happy must be the fate of America when contrasted with the convulsed and wretched situation of Europe.

A late London paper says—The trade expected to be opened with Prussia is like to be very lucrative. That country—once the most flourishing and powerful in the world, though now little known beyond the route of travellers going to or coming from the East Indies—abounds in gold and silver mines, which have not been worked for a number of years, owing to the want of fuel.

When John Boyle (one of the translators of the Bible, in the reign of James I.) was a young student at Cambridge, he received from the learned Dr. Whitaker three rules for avoiding those dilemmas which usually attend a sedentary life, to which he adhered with equal constancy and success.

- 1st. Study always standing.
- 2d. Never sleep in a window.
- 3d. Never go to bed with wet feet.

GEORGE-TOWN, Feb. 16.

COW POX.

Extract of a letter from Dr. Lettison, of London, to Dr. Barton, of Bolton.

Vaccine inoculation is becoming more and more general in England, and on the European continent—about 16,000 have had the disease, if diseased it can be termed, without any taste of fatality, and about 3000 have been inoculating again with the common small pox, without conveying any disease; so that probably soon no other than the Cow Pox will be adopted here. I imagine a fatal case will never occur; as there is rarely more than one pustule.

RALEIGH, February 17.

The Schooner Factor, arrived at New-York from the Cape, brings intelligence of Touffaint having marched against the Spanish port of Hispaniola, with 12,000 troops, where the disaffected blacks lately commanded by Rigaud, had taken refuge; and who had several times committed depredations on the property of the well disposed inhabitants.

General Touffaint has caused citizen Roume, the representative of the French government, in order to deprive him of the power of conspiracy against the public tranquility, to be removed to the village of Dondon, here he is to remain until the French government shall recall him, to answer for his bad conduct.

The following is an extract of a letter from one of the most respectable mercantile houses in Lisbon, to his correspondent in Rhode I. dated November 14.

"It has been notified to the merchants, that the wheat in the stores will not reach further than February; at the same time that England is sending over 10,000 troops, part of which are already arrived, and it is well known that they cannot spare any thing for their support. Under these circumstances, we can safely recommend shipments of either wheat, flour or indian corn. The present prices are 3 dollars per bushel for wheat; corn, 1 dollar 75 cents; pork, 18 dollars; rice 8 1-2 dollars; pipe staves 120 dollars, per long M."

ALEXANDRIA, February 19.

The collector's office of this port was last night entered by some villains who took out the iron chest and broke it open. Fortunately it contained but a small amount of specie (not perhaps exceeding 60 dollars) which the thieves carried off—but left a pocket book untouched in which was a large sum in bank notes.

February 21.

Thursday the senate confirmed the nomination of James A. Bayard, as minister plenipotentiary to the French Republic.

We understand that Mr. Bayard will decline the appointment.

The same day the senate passed unanimously the bill that originated in the house of representatives for extending the privilege of franking to John Adams.

In our last paper we stated from misinformation, that the privilege of franking applied to letters received by, as well as those written by Mr. Adams. The bill only applies to letters received by Mr. Adams, and not those written by him.

NORFOLK, February 17.

It will be recollected that some twelve or eighteen months ago, we published two letters from Captain Ebenezer Giles to Timothy Pickering, complaining of the barbarous treatment which he received from the commander of a British ship of war; and that Mr. Pickering, in reply, added only insult to the injuries which Captain Giles had sustained. Our readers recollecting these circumstances, will fully understand the subject of the following letter, which we copy from a Philadelphia paper.

To John Adams, President of the United States.

SIR, I must beg leave to remind you once more of my case, and bring to your recollection the sufferings of an American citizen. They are truly great; and through me every man in America suffers. The treatment I have received at the hands of captain Matton, of the British frigate Daphne, is such that no government, however pacifically inclined, could bear, I should imagine, with apathy and indifference. Retribution from any indemnity due to me, the honor and feelings of the nation are deeply interested; a nation especially that ought to boast of its freedom and independence.

The protest I have signed, confirmed by four of my crew, is such as to make a deep impression on the public mind, and no counter project from Mr. Pickering or from Mr. Matton, through his friend Mr. Pinlater, is sufficient to invalidate it. I should never complain without reason, nor should I be so foolish as to expect satisfaction for grievances, had I provoked them; but the fact is, that they were as wonted as unprovoked, and as cruel as unjust and unwarranted; it is for this reason, sir, the executive of America is bound in duty and honor to see me redressed.

Those tyrants of Europe who sport with the lives of their subjects, and make a traffic of their vassals, would have spirit enough to resent such an insult as I have received, and courage enough to remonstrate at least, with the aggressors, and require both an indemnity and apology for the outrages committed on the person of one of their slaves; what then should we not expect from the government of America, who profess to be republicans, and on their election solemnly pledge themselves to watch over the interests of the people and protect their persons and property? From all these considerations I appeal to men firm at the head of the executive, in the denier request, and flatter myself you will render through me, the nation that justice and satisfaction we are so justly entitled to.

It is not for me to point out to you the mode or the manner—this I must leave to your wisdom and discretion. But I shall be well pleased to learn from you when at leisure, that you mean to take up the matter in a manner worthy of the president of the United States.

I expect that you will not be displeased at my addressing this letter to you through the medium of the press—I have always written to you through the post office, and have not had the honor of an answer; probably this mode of conveyance may be more easy and certain.

I have the honor to be,

Sr,

With the highest consideration,
Your most obedient
And humble servant,

EBEN GILES.

New-York, Jan. 28, 1801.

To John Adams esq. president of the United States.

—STANTON, February 22.

Mr. Michael Garber, Sen. a citizen of this town, has invented a machine, for which he has received a patent for making nails. By this machine 1 person can make eight or nine thousand nails of any size in a day; by the common mode it is a laborious task for one man to make one thousand in a day. This machine is worked by water, it receives the rod makes, and heads the nails, and discharges itself in about four seconds.

We presume this will be one of the most valuable machines ever invented.

(From the Mercantile Advertiser.)

[The public were informed, in this paper on Monday last, that the Convention with France had been transmitted by the French government to Guadeloupe, and had been proclaimed there.—From the following Circular Letter (which we received yesterday by capt. Wallace of the Brig Nancy from St. Thomas) it appears that the agency are taking the necessary measures for carrying into effect those articles in which it is more immediately concerned; adding we presume, from a conviction the Convention will be ratified by the President and Senate of the United States.]

[Translated for the Mercantile Advertiser.]

[CIRCULAR.]

Port Liberty, 11th Nivose, (Dec. 31) 9th year of the French Republic, one and indivisible.

The Agents of the Consuls of the French Republic to the Windward Islands. To the Administrators of the Marine and War, Administrators of the Department, Municipal Agents, Civil and Commercial Judges, Justices of the Peace, Committees of the Government near the Administration and Judicial Police, Military Commanders, Commandants of Ports, Captains of Armed Vessels, &c. &c.

A Convention, Citizens, has been solemnly promulgated, which re-establishes between the French Republic and the United States of America, the accustomed relations of friendship and commerce.

Already two articles of this Convention (the 4th and 17th) are obligatory on the two contracting nations.

The intention and the orders of the government of the Republic, notified to the Agency of the Consuls by the Ministers of the Marine and the Colonies, are, Citizens, that a disposition of those articles (a copy of which is subjoined) be executed with the greatest punctuality.

(Here follow the 4th and 17th articles of the Convention between this country and France.)

Every one of you, citizens, in that which concerns you, are to require, oversee and procure or maintain, with the utmost exactitude, the strict execution of all these points. This injunction engages all your responsibility.

All the Americans whom the fate of war may have brought into Guadeloupe or its dependencies, are to be instantly released.

In case of the absence of the persons interested in reclaiming the American property captured since the signing of the treaty, and not yet definitively condemned, &c. the public ministers are to take charge of the business for the persons absent; and to put them in the way of obtaining, either on the part of the captors or the government, the satisfaction to which they may be entitled.

In case of the arrival at Guadeloupe or its dependencies, &c. of any prizes captured from the Americans, the commissaries of the government, delegates or prize commissioners, are immediately to intervene, and to adopt every measure for preserving the interest of whoever may have a right to it.

All captains of privateers and letters of marque, are bound, on point of losing their commissions, besides incurring the other penalties, damages, &c. to conform themselves to the spirit of the convention of the 8th Vendémiaire, and particularly to the 4th and 17th articles.

Copies of said articles, and of the present circular letter, will be this day annexed to the commissions of all vessels of war and letters of marque.

All privateers and letters of marque now at sea, which may touch at Guadeloupe or its dependencies, &c. shall be provided with the same documents by the chief of the war office, or by the delegates or commissaries, who will take a receipt for the same on the back of their commissions.

You may conceive, citizens, how much damage the non observance of these dispositions may cause to the public treasury, as well as to the owners, captains and securities of the privateers and letters of marque. Yourself, citizens, have the greatest interest in preventing this non-observance.

The functionary who by prevarication or negligence, shall suffer the least infraction of the clauses which have been just made known, will most certainly be responsible in his person and property.

You will have to render an account, citizens, each in your several stations, for the execution of the said clauses, at every opportunity; and we repeat to you that your responsibility in this respect is very serious.

Health and fraternity,

JEANNEE BRESSEAU.

By the agents of the Consuls,

EDM. MAUDUIT, sec. gen.

THE MAIL.

No Mail Yesterday.

On Wednesday last we had a southern mail—the principal part of which consisted of papers and letters dated in December and January.

For the Kentucky Gazette.

MR. PRINTER,

The following extracts are copied from a letter addressed to Samuel H. Smith, (Editor of the National Intelligencer), a paper published at the City of Washington) by Mr. Abraham Bradley jun. Assistant Post Master General, dated 4th General Post-Office, February 4, 1801.

"When communications have been made to the post master general by letter, he has never failed to give them proper attention; but to news-paper publications he has deemed it not worth while to make any reply."

"It should seem that many of the editors of news-papers either did not know that there was such a thing as boilerous elements, or else considered them subject to the post master general's command. It is hardly necessary to state that violent winds and storms, and ice, will at times render it impossible to ferry across rivers—that inconsiderable runs are sometimes swelled by rains, to the size of rivers—that heavy rains or the breaking up of frozen ground, render some roads so deep that it is impossible to travel on them with the necessary speed—that the mail is carried either in stages or on horseback—that post-stages are as liable to break as those of individuals, that they may break where no other carriage is to be had for a number of miles—that a horse may be overcome by heat, may fall dead with distemper, may become lame or unable to travel, where no other horse can be procured—that the riders may fall sick, and many other accidents may cause a delay of the mail. Yet such is the fact, and nineteen out of twenty of the failures and delays that do happen, arise from unavoidable accident."

From the above extracts it is evident that it has been the intention of the post master general to pay no attention whatever to news-paper complaints against the post office department; notwithstanding which, it seems this letter was written by his assistant, in answer to a paragraph which appeared in the National Intelligencer of the 2d February last. As the assistant post master general has confided to pay attention to that publication contrary to the previous intention of his principal, may we not hope through him to be informed, whether the failures in the mail through the wilderness to Kentucky, for three months past, has been really owing, to the inclemency of the season, high waters or other accidents, out of the power of the post master general either to foresee or controul; and that he has received vouchers to that effect; or to what other cause those failures are to be attributed? Also whether the post master general has been informed (through any channel to which he can give credit) of the mistakes which have been constantly committed since the establishment of distributing offices, by which letters and packages pass through the offices where they ought to be deposited, to the extreme parts of the state, and in many instances do not return for two, and some times four weeks; and if he has received such information, whether any steps have been taken to remedy this evil?

Should the post master general continue to disregard news-paper complaints, it is hoped the people will not—but that the respectable citizens in the different parts of this state, will convene at convenient places, and join in a remonstrance to the executive, against the abuses committed in that department, it being the only probable mode of obtaining redress.

A CITIZEN.

Lexington, March 12th, 1801.

* The paragraph here alluded to, is as follows—

"The Editor of the National Intelligencer, during the last week, has received so many complaints respecting the irregular receipt of papers by his subscribers, that he finds himself unable to reply individually to each.

"Complying on his part, rigidly with the rules of the department, and making up his packets in such a way as apparently to defy injury from the most careless neglect of them, he is authorized to say that the failure is solely to be ascribed to the post office department.

"Neglect and misconduct appear to occur in the whole extent of the line. The papers are destroyed before they reach even Alexandria, Newport, Del. Philadelphia and New-York, all of which are on the main line.

"Determined, if possible, to redress an evil of so extensive and growing magnitude, he invites information from his subscribers (requesting that letters may be post paid) which information shall be, as that received has been, submitted to the post master general."

LAW OF VIRGINIA.

An act in addition to the act intitled, "An act to amend the penal laws of this Commonwealth."

[Passed January 17, 1801.]

BE it enacted by the General Assembly, That any person who shall hereafter, of his own free will and accord, or by the persuasion of, or combination with any foreign agent, or any other person, being an alien, or a citizen of this commonwealth, or any other of the United States, deliver up or surrender, or cause to be delivered up or surrendered, either by his own authority, or under colour of any office whatsoever, held, or claimed to be held, under the authority of this commonwealth, any citizen of this commonwealth or any other of the United States, or any other free person whomsoever, being within the limits of this commonwealth, and entitled to the protection of the laws thereof, during his residence therein, to be transported beyond sea, or elsewhere without the United States, shall on conviction of every such offence, be adjudged a felon, and sentenced by the court before whom such conviction shall be had to undergo a confinement in the jail and penitentiary house, for a term not exceeding ten years, nor less than one year, and during such term, be compelled to perform such labour, and be subjected to such rules and regulations, in other respects, as is prescribed by law in the case of other felons condemned to serve in the said house.

And be it further enacted, That in case any person be delivered up or surrendered, as aforesaid, shall be transported by sea or land to any place without the jurisdiction of the courts of this commonwealth, or of any other of the United States, and at such place shall be tried and condemned by any court, either civil or military, for any criminal offence pretended to have been committed by such person at any place whatsoever, and in consequence of such condemnation, shall be actually executed under the authority of the court passing sentence upon him, then and every person or persons concerned in such delivery and surrender shall, on conviction thereof, and due proof made of such condemnation and execution, as aforesaid, be adjudged a felon, and suffer death in like manner as aiders, abettors and counsellors of murder in the first degree, are directed to be punished in by the fourteenth section of the act, intitled "an act to amend the penal laws of this commonwealth."

And be it further enacted, That all the duties required by the said recited act, to be performed by the court of the city of Richmond, shall hereafter be performed by the Governor with the advice of council, any thing in the said recited act to the contrary notwithstanding.

This act shall commence and be in force from the passing thereof.

NASSAU, (N. P.) January 7.

On Monday last arrived two of Genl. Bowles' Indians, and six white men, who inform, that nothing but an almost entire want of ammunition prevents him from succeeding in totally reducing that country. Notwithstanding repeated assurances in the American papers, that the Indians were almost disaffected, it is absolutely a fact that the whole nation is entirely devoted to him.

STANTON, February 24.

Extract of a letter from St. Bartholomew, January 19.

"Our cruisers are all called in by Commodore Barry, who arrived here a few days ago, and took command of the windward station. It is imagined he has received the official account of peace with America. Several American vessels within this week past have been carried into St. Martins, but were immediately liberated. It is generally reported here that Guadeloupe has been declared in a state of siege by the British."

John Armstrong, is elected senator for New-York for six years.

GEORGE-TOWN, Feb. 17.

Colonel Malcolm has been sent by the English East-India company on an embassy to the court of Persia. In proceeding in a ship to Abu Sherer, from whence he was to commence his journey, he stopped at the island of Ormus, of which person who was with him, observes, "It is peculiarly remarkable, that not a single spring of fresh water is to be found, in the island, which is fifteen miles round. Streams of salt water are seen running in every direction from the mountains on the banks of which the finest salt grow in thick flakes, having such the appearance of frozen snow. Many of the hills seem composed entirely of salt, and the whole soil of the island is strongly impregnated with that and sulphur, which occasions the intense heat so prevalent there."

ACRED TO THE MUSES.

ELEGY.

Written by a Young Gentleman in a Confinement.

SILENCE! I yield to this tubful tears,
A silent witness of each feature's tear;
Why do I weep? my pulses pale;
And all my frame a lillies languor feels.

Dim are those eyes which once reflected flame,
And that the throbbings of this aching breast;
My fainting voice has left its wonted tone;
And all my furrows are by sighs express'd.

Few are the transports I may hope to share,
While here a living victim I remain;
Anticipation heightens my despair,
And retrospection deepens every pain.

The sports of youth, in which I once partook;
Alas! no more! 'tis all that's left to wake;
On every scene, I feel a deadly look,
Nor know but that may be the last I take.

The social converse of my only friend,
So pleasing once, I now can scarcely bear;
Even his sweet smile from the fair defence,
His fine-ton'd accents would disgust mine ear.

The frowns of censure, and the smiles of praise
At all my feelings in the same degree;
The same emotions in my bosom rise,
For all alike is vanity to me.

In vain I've tried each Elysian art,
To sooth my anguish and my health regain;
Life's vital tide flows on from fourty years,
And daily creeps along each circling vein.

When o'er my glass, these heavy eye balls stray,
That glaze for ever to its purpled tear;
My meagre form I shudder to survey,
And almost dread it 'tis myself I view.

How chang'd! how alter'd! from my former plight,
When youthful vigour ev'ry sense thro'g;
When fancy wing'd her bold exultive flight,
And senses of rapture warbled on my tongue!

The dreams of pleasure, which I then pursued,
No more shall charm me with their specious guile;
Nor shall my love of fame, be hence renew'd,
For, unknown yields not to the great or vile.

Alas! regardless of my friends and foes,
I wait impatient for that awful hour;
Which brings existence to a final close,
And lifts the soul above all earthly pow'rs.

Then, when exempt from each terrestrial tie,
My trembling spirit wings the field of space,
Approving vain may quit their native sky,
And lasting, bear me to the Throne of Grace.

ANECDOTE.

A gentleman, remarkable for his aversion to revealed religion, some years ago, in a large company among whom was Dr. Franklin, indulged himself in a number of remarks, dishonorable to the christian faith; and warmly opposed all who defended it.—When, turning to the Doctor, he appealed to him for the truth of his assertions. The good old man made this laconic reply "It is best to believe." This declaration, considered as the mature decision of one of the most enlightened ages, after upwards of 80 years passed in the learned and active world, is of no small weight in the scale of human opinion.

AN ELEGANT Additional assortment of MERCHANDIZE,

Just received by John Jordan jun. & Co. Lexington, 8th Dec. 1800.

Just received from Le & Co's Patent and Family Medicine Store, Baltimore, and for sale by MAGUEAN & POTTER, at the Store formerly occupied by Mr. Robert Barr, Lexington, the following Valuable

22 MEDICINES: HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES,

Which have, within eighteen months past, given relief to upwards of FIFTY THOUSAND PERSONS, of all ages, in various dangerous complaints, arising from worms and from indigestion or obstruction in the stomach and bowels.

A peculiar excellence of this remedy is, its being found to every age and constitution contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation, that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tender infant of a week, should it never exist in the bowels, but will without pain or giving cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz the Tere or large round worm, the Ascarides, small new worm, and filly, the Tape, or tape worm, is called from its resemblance to tape; this is often many yards long, and is full of joints.—It is most hurtful, and most difficult to cure.

Among the symptoms attending worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning.—Bad and corrupted air.—Itching in the nose and about the face.—Convulsions and epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech.—Startling and grinding of the teeth.—Irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious.—Furging, with slimy and acrid stools.—Vomiting.—Large and hard belly.—Pain and sickness at the stomach.—Pains in the head and thighs, with loss of spirits.—Slow fever, with small and irregular pulse.—A dry cough.—Excellent thirst.—Sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness, having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

RECENT CURES.

SELECTED FROM SEVERAL HUNDREDS. MICHAEL DUFFY, residing at No. 57, Wilkes Street, Fell's Point, city of Baltimore, voluntarily deposes, that the following statement is just and true.

In the beginning of May last, my three children, a boy of seven, and two girls, the one five, and the other three years of age, were taken very ill, nearly at the same time, of a common fever, as I then supposed, but was soon convinced the disorder was caused by worms; they were frequently troubled with convulsion fits, and violent startings in their sleep, and with almost continual vomiting and purging, particularly the youngest. I made immediate recourse to a physician of the first reputation, and his medicines were administered with a considerable success, which only increased our disappointment. The children grew daily weaker, and I was absolutely without hope of their recovery.—The youngest one appeared almost devoid of animation, and scarcely an insubstantial shell of himself. In the disressing moment I was told that Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges had procured many cures in cases equally desperate. I immediately purchased a box, and gave each of them a dose, which in a few hours produced the most defforable effects; the eldest obtained a great number of large worms, and the second about half a dozen, many of them not a quarter of an inch long, and the appearance of them, of a different color, and I repeated the dose exactly to the order of directions, and they all peacefully recovered a good state of health, which they still enjoy, though five months have nearly elapsed since they were in the borders of the grave, and the death of the eldest appeared inevitable.

Sworn before me, this 26th day of September, 1799.

INFALLIBLE AGUE AND FEVER DROPS.

For the cure of Agues, remittent and intermitteut Fevers.

Thousands can testify of their being cured by these drops, after every bark and other medicine has proved ineffectual; and more in a hundred had occasion to take humaneness one, and numbers not half a bottle.

The design are particularly recommended to the inhabitants of low marshy countries, where the worst sort of agues generally prevail, which unless early attended to and speedily removed, infuse the constitution exceedingly, and bring on most dangerous and alarming nature. Many other medicines are daily offered to the public for the cure of this disorder, which would have been found either dangerous or useless. The bark is the usual remedy-made use of, but being very nauseous medicine, and seldom taken in sufficient quantities, is very often fail; and children, and those who have weak stomachs, are frequently left for want of a more easy and pleasant remedy.

THE SOVEREIGN OINTMENT FOR THE ITCH,

Which is warranted an infallible remedy at once application, and may be used with the most perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury, or any dangerous ingredient, and is not accompanied with that tormenting smart, which attends the application of other remedies.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE. For the prevention and cure of Eruptions and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

DR. HAHN'S ANTI-BILLIOUS PILLS,

Which have been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the southern of the United States; particularly in Baltimore, Pheeburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Exeter, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. 'Tis testified by a number of persons in each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe that it timely use of this salutary remedy, has under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile, and prevent its morbid secretion.—To restore and amend the appetite.—To produce a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colic, which are often a fatal consequence.—A dose never fails to remove a cold, if taken at its full appearance.—They are celebrated for removing bilious colic, which is like a fit at the stomach, and severe head aches, and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

THE GENUINE ESSENCE AND EXTRACT OF MUSTARD.

For the Cure of Rheumatism, Gout, Palsy, Sprains, White Swelling, &c. and has performed more cures in the above complaints, than all the other medicines ever before published.

DR. HAMILTON'S ELIXIR,

A sovereign remedy for Colds, Obsolete Coughs, Asthma, and approaching Consumption, and is far superior to any other medicine for the WHOOPING COUGH.

INDIAN VEGETABLE SPECIFIC, For the Cure of a Certain Disease.

HAMILTON'S GRAND RESTORATIVE.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution, the immoderate use of mercury; the diseases peculiar to females, as a certain banter of life; bad lying in, &c.

THE DAMASK LIP-SALVE, An elegant and pleasant preparation for chapped and sore lips, the immediate cure of the eruptions occasioned by Colds, Fevers, &c. renders the face beautiful rosy color, and delicate features to the lips.

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER FOR THE TEETH AND GUMS.

This excellent preparation cures and strengthens the gums, prevents the enamel from being rubbed off, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

DR. HAHN'S TRUE & GENUINE GERMAN CORN-PLASTER.

An infallible remedy for Corns, freely removing them root and branch, without giving pain.

DR. HAHN'S GENUINE EYE WATER,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eye, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident, speedily removing the humors from the eye, and clearing and whitens the eye, absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

TOOTH-ACHE DROPS. The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

THE ANODYNE ELIXIR, For the cure of every kind of Head-Ache, &c. &c.
